

The American Library in Paris

ANNUAL REPORT

2012

A year of continued growth and change

The American Library in Paris continued to grow and change in 2012 to keep pace with the evolving landscape of the information age and of the Library's multiple constituencies. Children's and adult programming remained robust, reaching our membership of 2,600 families and retirees, students and scholars, American expatriates and bilingual French citizens.

In a massive undertaking, most of the book collection was reorganized and rationalized on the Library's three levels. A gift from the Florence Gould Foundation established the American Library in Paris Book Award, to be given annually beginning in 2013. The Second Century Campaign continued to move forward, but at a pace slowed by economic uncertainties. Membership growth also slowed slightly and continues to be a key focus for the Library team. However, critically important annual giving continued to rise, as did participation in the gala dinner honoring Sebastian Faulks.

The Board of Trustees launched a strategic planning process, spearheaded by Neil Janin, that included focus groups, a survey of members and non-members, staff and board brainstorming sessions, and expert interventions in a drive to set the near term future direction for the Library.
