

The Dessert Fight

Once upon a time, there was a bakery on Boulevard Victor Hugo in France. The name of the bakery was called Flutter Bites. The bakery was decorated with all different colored flowers and butterflies. There was a man and a lady who worked in the bakery, they were very nice people. The man was called John and the lady was called Rose. They had two kids, a boy and a girl, and they were twins. The boy was called Johnny and the girl was called Rosie. They were 6 years old.

John and Rose knew that their bakery was nice. Lots of people loved it and came to it every day. They were proud and happy! Flutter Bites had the best raspberry tarts because they tasted so sweet & the raspberries were freshly picked from a farm. John & Rose also sold angel food cakes, nice warm baguettes, lemon cakes with delicious lemon icing, chocolate cakes with vanilla icing, cookies, and rainbow cakes with whipped cream icing & chopped strawberries & blueberries on top.

One thing that John and Rose didn't know about their shop was that when the shop was closed, the desserts came alive because the flour is magical. All of the desserts had wheelchairs to help them get around to places. One day, when the shop was closed, the desserts were talking to each other about who was the yummiest. They couldn't agree so they had a huge fight. Then Angel Food Cake had an idea because he was the only one not fighting.

Angel Food Cake said, "Guys, I have a surprise for you! I'll be back from the farm soon." No one could hear him because they were too busy fighting. He went to the farm in his wheelchair and picked some blackberries and raspberries to make a delicious cake from his recipe book. The cake would make everyone not fight anymore and forget about the fight. Cakes give them the taste of yumminess and then they're going to talk about how yummy the cake was.

Angel Food Cake put a little bit of this and a little bit of that into a big bowl and then he put the mixture in a tray and put it in the oven to bake. After the cake was baked, he took the cake out of the tray and decorated it with lemon icing and the berries he had picked freshly from the farm. The reason Angel Food Cake's cake didn't come alive is because he didn't use magical flour. Then he called all the different desserts to come and have his cake. He cut the cake up and put every slice on a plate and gave the desserts a spoon to eat it with. Then they all sat down and ate the cake. After they were done they talked about the cake.

The cookies said, "The cake had delicious berries."

The baguette said, "It's delicious because of the lemon icing!"

Raspberry tart said, "I think it was the best cake I have ever had in my life because lemon icing and blackberries and raspberries really go together."

The desserts kept talking all evening about how delicious the cake was. Angel Food Cake felt very happy and joyful because the desserts loved how he made his cake. He felt like that was his best cake yet. Angel Food Cake made something that made him feel good and his friends feel good inside. The desserts realized they were not fighting anymore and they all thanked Angel Food Cake for the cake.

The lesson of the story is, "Cake makes everything better!"