

The Mysterious Cat

Once upon a time, there was a little cat who had stripes on her body and she had a tail which had dots. Her name was Fluffy Fluff Fluff. On one foot, there were light stripes both horizontal and vertical. On the other foot, she had dots. On her third foot, she had curls and twirls. On her fourth foot, she had lots and lots of spikes. And the last thing - she left chocolate paw prints everywhere - we could really eat them!

There was a thief and he was in prison. But he escaped.

The policewoman had the cat, Fluffy Fluff Fluff, to catch thieves. But the stealer stole that cat.

The stealer wanted everybody to be amazed of this cat. He disguised himself as a poor woman and he came into town with the cat. And he put Fluffy inside the circle of people. Everybody was amazed, and enjoyed and gave the stealer a lot of money. He stuffed all of that money in a money bag. He had already quite a lot of money.

The policewoman was drinking her coffee. And then she realized that her cat was missing! She knew that the only person who could steal her cat was the stealer. So she went in her car - zoom - full speed ahead! Then she found the stealer and caught him. She put him back in jail but she didn't realize that he still had Fluffy Fluff Fluff in his bag, and she was sad.

After a few months, she decided to unlock the stealer from the jail and she decided to ask the stealer to have the cat back. The stealer agreed to a race to see who would get the cat back. The policewoman put the cat on a beautiful throne and they had a race to see who would have the cat. The policewoman won. The stealer was very sad that he lost and the policewoman was very happy because she had won.

The End.
