January 2025: A Month Full of Dynamic Programming

January isn't just another month—it's your gateway to ignite a year of discovery. Whether you're a lifelong learner, a knowledge seeker, or someone craving fresh perspectives, we've got something for you.

Our History Tours are back, offering an incredible opportunity to explore the past of the Library, and our calendar is also packed with exciting events for children and teens.

The Evenings With an Author series starts off strong this week with Rachel Kushner discussing her darkly funny and propulsive noir Creation Lake, a novel that was shortlisted for the 2024 Booker Prize and longlisted for the National Book Award.

After that, we'll discuss chronic illness with Meghan O'Rourke, follow the story of the Cassars with Claire Messud, learn how to craft personal narratives with Melissa Febos, and hear from French novelist Maylis de Kerangal about her latest works.

Cultural Programs

Evenings with an Author and other evening programs are free and open to the public, unless otherwise noted. You must RSVP to attend our programs, whether you join us in person or via Zoom.

Our cultural programming is made possible by GROW @ Annenberg, as well as The de Groot Foundation, the Florence Gould Foundation, and the enduring legacy of the American Center for Art & Culture.

New History Tours in January

Our popular expert-led History Tours are back! The next available dates are 10 January, 17 January, and 24 January, all Fridays at 11h00, so don't wait to register, as the Tours fill up quickly.

Tours are free and open to the public, and will take you on a deep dive into the Library's fascinating 105-year history. Follow the librarians who distributed books to the Doughboys fighting alongside Allied troops in WWI; learn about the famous writers of the Lost Generation who explored our stacks during their time in Paris; and discover the true stories of the brave staff who kept the Library open during the Occupation of WWII.
